Shahz Naseem, centre with Dr Phyllis Starkey, and the staff of new dental practice Dental Works

Bringing a smile to your face

O PEN wide there is a new dental practice in town.

As reported in mk news recently the owner of Dental Works, Shahz Naseem, opened the doors to his practice a month ago to cater for patients waiting for a NHS dentist.

The practice which is based at Unit 1 Station House, 500 Elder Gate, CMK, is only taking up to 7,000 patients and still has 2,000 places to fill.

The fully air conditioned practice has the latest state-of-the-art equipment with two waiting areas, Plasma TV screens, and wheelchair access in two surgeries.

Patients can also see pictures of their teeth through an intra-oral camera and their teeth can be better examined through a digital X-ray which is meant to have less radiation compared to the conventional film based X-rays.

Specialist services such as oral surgery, facial plastic surgery, botox and intravenous sedation, tooth whitening, cosmetic dentistry and teeth implants are also on offer. Mr Naseem and his staff were also joined by Milton Keynes South-West MP Dr Phyllis Starkey on Friday.

Mr Naseem said: "Dr Starkey was quite pleased with the practice and the facilities that Dental Works is equipped to provide."

"We are a friendly team who ensure our patients get the best available treatment using the latest technology."
